What can a Community Health Worker do for me?

As Community Health Workers, we are dedicated to improving not only your health and wellbeing but the communities we serve.

Regardless of immigration status, income level, disability, living situation, past or present, we can help you.

This is done by connecting the client or consumer to referral programs and support in everyday necessities like healthcare, clothing, housing, transportation, childcare, food and more.

We help close the barriers to these resources by being your voice in the community and advocate on your behalf.
